MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

In September 1948, Pensacola State College opened in a boarding house in downtown Pensacola. Only 136 students were enrolled in classes.

Today, the institution which was the first Florida public junior college to be established under the Minimum Foundation Program Law, has changed countless lives.

Since that inaugural class more than 71 years ago, the College has had a tradition of improving the lives and investing in the futures of its students. Today, more than 111,000 alumni have earned associate degrees, bachelor's degrees and workforce certifications from the College.

Our alumni have been, and continue to be, difference makers all over Florida, the United States, the world and beyond. As we commemorate the College's anniversary, let's remember the countless public servants, athletes, educators, entrepreneurs, business leaders and many others who are Pensacola State alumni.

With a rich history of success, Pensacola State College remains dedicated and committed to "Building on Tradition and Investing in the Future."

Here's to the next 70 years...

Life Achievement

PRESENTED TO ALUMNI WHO HAVE REACHED STATE, REGIONAL OR NATIONAL RECOGNITION AND REPRESENT THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF ACHIEVEMENT IN THEIR PROFESSION OR SERVICE.

– GARY A. DELAPP Gary A. DeLapp is known by his friends and colleagues as the man who "gets things done."

After a more than 40-year career in the hotel industry, the Pensacola State College alumnus, has earned the loyalty and respect of business associates worldwide.

DeLapp's career began as a dishwasher at the Holiday Inn North Pensacola. That entry level position as a teenager led DeLapp to a successful career where he served in all levels of executive management.

While at PSC, DeLapp was inducted into Delta Kappa Alpha, a fraternity whose mission includes building lifelong character, ethical and productive business practices, philanthropic action and fraternal bonds.

For DeLapp, this has become a lifelong calling, according to those who know him.

"To my experience, people are often one way in business and another in personal life. Gary's personal life and business life are the same. He treats people in both domains the same. With me, he has always been forthright, clear and motivated by the highest values of integrity," said Michael Thomas, a business associate, fraternity brother and friend.

Family and friendships also are important to DeLapp, who has never lost sight of the importance of those relationships.

Admired by many for his ethics, integrity and compassion, he maintains a positive outlook. In professional and personal circles, DeLapp is known to be a loyal and trusted business colleague, friend and devoted husband and father.

"Attending PJC gave me more exposure to activities and afforded me the opportunity to interact with people from all areas of Pensacola which has allowed me to be a better leader in my career. It changed my life by broadening my horizons."

– Gary A. DeLapp
2019 Distinguished Alumni Award honoree

– JARL "J.T." YOUNG

Jarl "J.T." Young's collegiate career began at Pensacola State as a dual-enrolled Washington High School junior.

But by that time, PSC had become a part of his family. Young's parents were devoted WSRE supporters, and his uncle, the late Robert Walker Jr., taught at the College. Young's older sister, Avis, graduated from PSC, and his wife, Deidre, served 12 years on the College's Board of Trustees. The legacy continued with the Youngs' sons – Thomas and Joseph – who began their educations at PSC.

After PSC, Young went on to the University of Florida, the University of West Florida, and finally Harvard Business School. But he never forgot the College's impact on his life.

"The wonderful faculty and staff at PJC not only shaped my educational awareness but they helped to prepare me for life," said Young who is president and CEO of the Memphis (Tennessee) Light, Gas, and Water Division.

"The personal interaction between students and faculty as well as the friendly campus environment and community focus served to inspire me to always pursue excellence."

Those who know Young well say he embodies the meaning of the Life Achievement Award.

"As I think about his life, I think about of him being a loving husband, a loving father, serving in his church, serving in the community," said Stan Connally Jr., executive vice president of operations for the Southern Company.

"He is wholly deserving of the Life Achievement Award."

"Without a doubt, I've been blessed for a lifetime by my PJC/PSC experience. It was in the right place; it was just the right size; it had just the right curriculum at just the right time for me. And I will be forever grateful to God for the opportunity to be a part of the Pirate family."

– Jarl "J.T." Young

Hometown Heroes PRESENTED TO ALUMNI WHO HAVE ACHIEVED A MEASURE OF SUCCESS WITHIN THE COLLEGE'S SERVICE AREA AND WHO HAVE DEMONSTRATED NOTABLE COMMUNITY SERVICE.

– CHERRY FITCH Those closest to the Honorable Cherry M. Fitch know she has never met a challenge that she didn't overcome.

Fitch has dedicated her talents and energy to the enrichment and growth of her hometown, Gulf Breeze. Throughout her career, volunteer work and community involvement, she has built a legacy of public service and advocacy for education.

The Pensacola State College alumna's journey began after high school. Following her father's advice, she enrolled at PSC which was ranked as the No. 1 community college in the country at that time.

"At PSC, I found a supportive and inspiring environment that bolstered my confidence and solidified my commitment to the pursuit of higher education," she said.

Following PSC, Fitch earned a bachelor's degree from the University of West Florida, a master's from Troy University and a master's in educational leadership from UWF. Her choices led her into the classroom as high school teacher, guidance counselor, principal, Realtor, city councilwoman, and mayor of Gulf Breeze.

"Cherry Fitch has built a life around serving others. Her dedication to our area runs deep and has touched countless citizens," said Gulf Breeze resident Cathy Purdon. "Cherry's quiet, yet firm style, vast educational experience and business mindset make her a valuable resource for our community."

Sara Wilson, Fitch's sister, said numerous accolades are a testament of her leadership, integrity and ability to inspire others.

"Cherry epitomizes dedication, intelligence and caring," Wilson added.

Fitch has a daughter, Mandi, and son-in-law Marty Edwards.

"Studying at Pensacola State College (PJC) gave me the confidence and commitment to continue my education and earn a four-year degree. I'm not sure if I had started college at a large university, I would have felt the same support system and become as comfortable as quickly."

– Cherry Fitch
2019 Distinguished Alumni Award honoree

– CHIP SIMMONS Chip Simmons truly believes part of serving your community is helping to protect it. And making Escambia County safer has been a longtime mission for the current Escambia County Sheriff's Office Chief Deputy.

Simmons, who has worked in law enforcement for more than 35 years, earned an associate degree in criminal justice from Pensacola State College. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Troy University. Later, he graduated from the FBI National Academy.

Simmons' dedication to Escambia County has not gone unnoticed.

"Just about anyone you run into who knows him says he is that guy who is there when you need him," said Escambia County Sheriff's Capt. Ken Simmons, Chip Simmons' younger brother. "He's a good solid person."

Escambia County Sheriff David Morgan describes Simmons as a role model with an uncanny ability to connect with people from all walks of life.

"Regardless of their educational background or their position or who they are or what job they hold, Chip connects with everyone," Morgan said. "He has always been that way. Most people don't know, but Chip was quite an accomplished athlete in high school. Rather than getting all of the trophies and accolades, he went on to mentor and help other young men and his teammates."

Simmons began his law enforcement career in 1984 as a corrections officer. In 1986, he was hired by the Pensacola Police Department. He retired as police chief in 2015.

Simmons and his wife, Susan, have two sons, Christopher and Garet.

"Literally, every professional achievement that I've been able to accomplish has had its roots in my time at Pensacola Junior College. If it were not for Pensacola State College, I wouldn't have what I have. I wouldn't have the wife I have."

– Chip Simmons
2019 Distinguished Alumni Award honoree

Against the Odds PRESENTED TO ALUMNI WHO HAVE ACHIEVED SUCCESS DESPITE FINANCIAL, SOCIOLOGICAL OR PHYSICAL ADVERSITY.

– BARRY COLE A positive attitude has paid huge dividends to Barry Cole, owner of Beré Jewelers and a Pensacola State graduate.

At 17, Cole secured a job at Zales Jewelers in Cordova Mall. At 22, he partnered with the late Ray Jones and the two opened Beré Jewelers.

Jones passed away in 2005, however Cole continued to expand the business. In April 2017, he opened a Beré Jewelers flagship location on 12th Avenue. In the first year, the freestanding 7,350-square-foot store doubled its sales volume.

Gerald Adcox, president of Adcox Imports, said Cole started his business with a prayer, a partner, hope, less than $10,000 and a desire to succeed.

"Barry has overcome a lot of stuff," said Adcox as he recalled when the jewelry store was robbed at gunpoint just before Christmas in 1984.

"After the robbery, it was a tremendous setback, it took years to recover but Barry never lost sight of his passion, and what he wanted to bring to Pensacola, the vision of the store he wanted, where he wanted to be in the future," recalled his wife, Laura, who is also a PSC graduate.

"His sheer dedication is why we are where we are today."

October marked Beré Jewelers 35th year in business. Along with the flagship store, a Gulf Breeze location also is thriving.

A member of the Downtown Rotary Club, Cole also has served on the Escambia County Public Schools Foundation, Sacred Heart Foundation and Gulf Coast Kid's House.

The Cole family also supports Independence for the Blind, Autism Pensacola, and Big Brothers Big Sisters of America.

"Attending PSC allowed me to stay in Pensacola, start my business, and remain close to family and friends."

– Barry Cole
2019 Distinguished Alumni Award honoree

– THOMAS VAUGHN Tom Vaughn measures his true success by helping others reach their goals.

A wealth management advisor with Northwestern Mutual, Vaughn credits Pensacola State College with helping him learn how to earn his way to success.

Life wasn't always easy for the fourth-generation Pensacola native. Despite a somewhat disadvantaged childhood, Vaughn was brought up in a close-knit, loving and supportive family.

At 17 he enlisted in the U.S. Air Force during the Vietnam War, and began pursuing a post-secondary education. Along with balancing military duties, Vaughn studied at PSC and Troy University before earning an associate degree from the Community College of the Air Force and later, a bachelor's degree from the University of West Florida.

Longtime friend Paul Morris described Vaughn as the classic example of America.

"Tom came from humble beginnings, and has worked his way up to the top and most of that is truly from outworking others," said Morris, who owns The Doctors Directory. "...Tom is just a good guy. He is the type of friend that you would want in your corner. He is the type of person you would invite to your party."

Kristan Brinkley, a Northwestern Mutual colleague, said Vaughn has been in situations where the odds were stacked against him – but he still persevered.

"He never used those situations as an excuse not to give 120 percent," she said.

Along with a successful career, Vaughn always found time to give back to the community. He has served on many boards and donated his time, talent and resources to the Sacred Heart Children's Hospital Foundation, the Ronald McDonald House and Alex's Lemonade Stand just to name a few.

"Pensacola State made it possible for me to achieve my goals despite life's challenges."

– STEVE OLESKY Pensacola State College is where Steve Olesky discovered his passion for graphic design.

A senior director of the digital creative department at Ralph Lauren Corp., Olesky earned an associate degree from PSC and went on to receive a bachelor's of fine arts from the Savannah College of Art & Design.

He credits a supportive family and amazing PSC professors for his successes. At PSC, Olesky won a gold ADDY, two silver ADDYs and received the Anna Lamar Switzer Award.

"Play. Experiment. Create. Learn continuously. Be inspired by others, but find your own style," is Olesky's philosophy. However, he hasn't forgotten his beginnings. He says his foundation was formed at PSC, that everything he learned, he carries with him.

PSC faculty members recall Olesky as an outstanding student with an unbelievable work ethic.

"Even as a young designer, he worked tirelessly and never complained. As a student, he understood that design is not a 9 to 5 job and was committed," said Visual Arts Professor Mark Hopkins.

Krist Lien, head of the Visual Arts Department, described Olesky as a student who knew where he wanted his dreams to take him.

"One of the things I really do remember about Steve is that he was always very focused, and knew he had a certain window of time to get where he wanted to go," Lien said.

"That always impressed me – especially for a freshman coming in to realize he wanted to take advantage of the opportunities put in front of him at PSC."

Olesky and his wife, Lindsay, have two children, Asher and Elle, and live in New York City.

"As a designer, my foundation was formed at PJC. I am forever grateful for the graphic design program, and the professors there. I will carry the lessons and skills they instilled throughout my career."

Spirit of Pensacola State College PRESENTED TO AN ALUMNUS WHO HAS SERVED THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY AND MADE A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT.

– DENIS MCKINNON SR. Over his lifetime, Denis McKinnon Sr., has worn many hats – U.S. Marine, highly-decorated Vietnam War veteran, banker, community advocate and volunteer just to name a few.

However, McKinnon ranks being a Pensacola

State College alumnus among his greatest honors.

"My time at PJC was a learning experience. It was one of the best things to ever happen to me," said the 1959 Escambia High School graduate who attended Pensacola Junior College from 1960 to 1961.

After leaving college, the Pensacola native entered the U.S. Marine Corps' Aviation Program and earned his Naval Aviation Designation in 1963. McKinnon served two tours of duty in Vietnam – one where he was injured, but still went on to serve 20 years as a Marine aviator.

He earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, an MBA from the University of West Florida and worked toward his doctorate at Nova Southeastern University.

McKinnon's devotion to PSC has been evident.

"I've had the opportunity to come back and serve on the Board of Trustees, and sat on the committees that selected Charles Atwell and Dr. (Thomas) Delaino as presidents," he said.

One highlight of his service to the College was helping to procure a $1 million donation from the Lamar, Switzer and Reilly families. The donation served as the lead gift of the College's first capital campaign.

McKinnon and his wife, Maureen, have been married for 56 years. The couple has three children – Denise, Denis Jr. and Darin; three grandchildren and four step-grandchildren.

"I consider this to be the entry into my adult life where my decisions – both good and bad – affected my success or failure in life. The PSC Experience allowed me to enter the U.S. Marine Corps Aviation Cadet Program and started my 20-year career as a Marine aviator."

Aspire Higher

SCHOLARSHIP

Established by Jarl "J.T." and Deidre Young, the Aspire Higher Scholarship assists African American students who major in STEM or business-related fields. The Youngs' $12,500 pledged gift will be matched by the PSC Foundation under the PSC Alumni Association Scholarship Matching Program.

"So as you can probably tell education is huge for us and our family. Our parents were not formally educated but they knew the value of education," said J.T. Young, CEO and president of Memphis (Tennessee) Light, Gas and Water.

"Deidre and I are trying to make sure that we pay forward what we believe is so important in our community."

"We know that's so important for our community and so Deidre and I are trying to make sure that we pay forward what we believe is so important in our community."

In 1980, J.T. Young earned an associate's degree in pre-engineering from Pensacola State College. Deidre Young completed a Bachelor of Arts degree in education and later served as a trustee for Pensacola State College. She also completed a number of educational certification courses at the College.

The couple's sons – Thomas and Joseph – also enrolled in courses at the College.

Delta Kappa Alpha

SCHOLARSHIP

Delta Kappa Alpha Fraternity, in partnership with the Pensacola State College Alumni Association, has agreed to raise funds to establish a new scholarship.

When fully funded, this scholarship will benefit Pensacola State students who qualify. The Fraternity has raised more than the original goal of $12,500 which was matched by the College's Alumni Association Scholarship Matching Fund. They continue to build the scholarship endowment and plan future annual fundraising events.

The fraternity was active from the 1960s until the 1990s. Delta Kappa Alpha "Deke" Brothers, PSC alumni and friends are invited to contribute to this fund.

Edward Meadows

MERITORIOUS SCHOLARSHIP

Established by Pensacola State College President Ed Meadows in May 2019, the Edward Meadows Meritorious Scholarship will benefit full- or part-time Pensacola State students enrolled in an A.A., A.S., or B.A.S./B.S.N. field of study.

Preference will be given to students majoring in STEM, health sciences or nursing. Scholarship recipients also must remain involved in student life at the College, demonstrate financial need and maintain a minimum of 2.5 grade point average.

"Many of our students work full-time jobs, have families and sometimes even care for their parents – scholarships help them pay their tuition, fees and books," said Meadows who has been Pensacola State's president since June 1, 2008.

"Many of our students work full-time jobs, have families and sometimes even care for their parents – scholarships help them pay their tuition, fees and books."

With a vast background in higher education, Meadows served 17 years in the Alabama Community College System – 12 of those as president. He also worked 10 years in the Mississippi Community College System as a faculty member, department chair and campus dean.

Meadows earned his Master of Arts and doctorate from Ball State University, a Master of Science in science from the University of Tennessee, and Bachelor of Science from Delta State University.

Ginger McMullen Moore

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP

Established in 2017, the Ginger McMullen Moore Endowed Scholarship honors one of Pensacola State College's longtime supporters.

Mrs. Moore attended PJC from 1958-1960 and subsequently graduated from Florida State University. She was a member of the Pensacola Junior College Foundation Board of Governors from 2007 to 2012, serving on several committees and twice chairing the Annual Fund Campaign. She is also a Lifetime Charter Member of the PSC Alumni Association.

In honor of Moore's commitment to supporting students and programs at the College and her many civic contributions, her husband, Edward Moore, established the scholarship.

Also a PSC alumnus, Edward Moore graduated from Pensacola Junior College in 1960, and later the University of Florida. He is a member of College's District Board of Trustees, beginning his term in 2007 to the present and serving as chair from 2011 to 2013. He is also a Lifetime Charter Member of the PSC Alumni Association.

"I am beyond honored; never in my wildest dreams did I imagine a Pensacola State College scholarship would one day bear my name," Ginger Moore said. "I am so grateful to my husband for the scholarship proposal and the Alumni Association's Board of Directors for supporting the idea. It is one of the brightest highlights of my life – the epitome of a lifelong interest and involvement with the College."

"I was a first-generation college student and have a great appreciation for what this scholarship can do for students."

Helping first-generation college students realize the dream of higher education is very near and dear to Ginger Moore. The 1958 Escambia County (Alabama) High School graduate, was the first in her family to attend college.

"I was a first-generation college student and have a great appreciation for what this scholarship can do for students," said Ginger Moore – the oldest of five children.

LANE HARPER
President, Pensacola State College
Alumni Association
Board of Directors

The PSC Alumni Association Board of Directors was honored to join with the College in presenting the 2019 Distinguished Alumni Awards and Gala. It was a memorable and inspirational evening. We recognized eight successful alumni and celebrated PSC's culture of outstanding faculty and dedicated staff. Their stories speak to the positive influence that this great College has had on so many lives.

The Alumni Association works closely with the College to open doors to greater possibilities. We're pleased that four newly-endowed, named scholarships were established in conjunction with the awards.

As we move forward, we will continue to enhance the alumni experience at Pensacola State College. Also, the Alumni Association remains committed to perpetuating the College's tradition of excellence and strengthening the bonds with our students and alumni.

PATRICE S. WHITTEN
Executive Director, Alumni Affairs
Pensacola State College

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Working closely with College Leadership, the celebration of our 70 years of service afforded us the opportunity to establish a new tradition, the Distinguished Alumni Awards. Designed to highlight the accomplishments and impact of Pensacola State College's exceptional alumni, the event marked another milestone in the history of our College and left a lasting legacy of newly-created scholarships and enduring philanthropic support. Together with our sponsors, patrons and contributors, we are united in our pledge to give back to the College in ways that engage and recognize outstanding alumni and serve the students of tomorrow. We will always remain grateful to all who were part of our inaugural alumni awards and have supported PSC throughout our history.
