PENSACOLA STATE COLLEGE

Annual Report
2010-2011

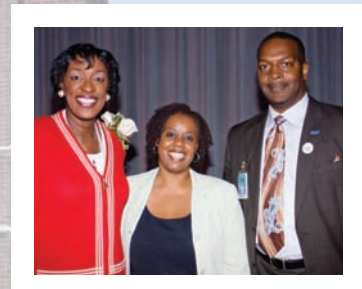

Mission

Pensacola State College, under the governance of a local Board of Trustees, is one of 28 public colleges in the Florida College System committed to affordable, open access to educational opportunities. The college offers associate and baccalaureate degrees, career oriented certificates, college prep, adult education, GED prep, and standard high school diplomas. In addition, the college provides specialized business and industry training, recreation and leisure courses, and community outreach and services. Pensacola State College is dedicated to maximizing educational opportunities, through a variety of delivery methods that develop the academic, career, personal, and aesthetic capabilities of individuals for the benefit of themselves and the global community.

Vision

The vision of Pensacola State College is to be the premier state college in the region. Transitioning to state college status in the Florida College System is essential to responding effectively to local, regional, state, national, and global educational and employment opportunities and demands. We will strategically contribute to the region's long-term intellectual and economic potential through innovative and affordable means to maximize student success and workforce productivity. As a state college, we will further enhance our reputation and image as an institution of higher education that promotes and develops all students intellectually, socially and culturally, propelling them to succeed within the global community.

President's Message

Students are the Measure of Our Success

In the current era of economic competitiveness, student success is a national priority. The unprecedented White House summit on community colleges emphasized the importance of workforce training and cited education as the key to future economic growth.

Pensacola State College has embraced these concepts since its doors opened in 1948. Now, more than ever, we are at the forefront of providing programs that lead to meaningful employment and encourage entrepreneurship.

In January 2011, the college launched its first baccalaureate degree programs — Bachelor of Applied Science and Bachelor of Science in Nursing — with 158 students in the inaugural class.

The college also began six new workforce programs leading to associate degrees and certificates. This array of programs provides just one example of the college working with local businesses and industry to identify unfilled jobs and growing job markets and then providing the appropriate education, training and skills to meet those needs.

A measure of the success of our programs is by the success of our students, i.e., graduation and job placement. For the third straight year, Pensacola State was named to the prestigious list of Top 100 Associate Degree Producers in the nation.

Student success at Pensacola State reaches far beyond earning a degree or certificate. Student success includes opportunities to explore new ideas; activities that encourage leadership, community service, personal growth; and support systems of dedicated faculty, caring advisors and ample student resources.

While it is impossible to include every accolade, this annual report provides a glimpse of some of our achievements, such as:

- Phi Theta Kappa member Wesley Greene was one of 20 students nationwide selected for the 2011 Guistwhite Scholarship.

- During 2010-2011, Pirate teams produced four Academic All-American winners, 16 Academic All-State winners and 31 Academic All-Conference winners.

- Renowned artist Christo was honored as the Switzer Distinguished Artist. A record-breaking 21,082 visitors came to the "Christo and Jeanne-Claude" exhibition at the Visual Arts Gallery, and nearly 900 art enthusiasts attended his lecture.

- The Lady Pirates basketball team ended a perfect season winning the State Championship and placing third in the nation.

- Pensacola State once again was named a Military Friendly School by G.I. Jobs magazine.

- The first Regional SkillsUSA/Worlds of Possibilities Career Expo hosted on the Pensacola campus drew almost 2,000 eighth graders from Escambia and Santa Rosa county schools.

- Collegiate High School saw overall enrollment increase 19 percent with classes full to capacity.

- Through the Foundation's efforts, 2,754 scholarships worth almost $900,000 were awarded to deserving students.

- WSRE, PBS for the Gulf Coast, won two Bronze Telly Awards for original documentaries.

For more than six decades, Pensacola State has provided opportunities for dreams to become reality, for careers to flourish. We look forward to a future full of promise for our students and the community we serve.

Sincerely,

C. Edward Meadows
Pensacola State College President

Programs

The Pirate Master Swimmers women's relay team returned from the National Championship Swim Meet ranked seventh in the nation, and Margie Stone ranked first in four individual events. Team members are, from left, Margie Stone, Katherine Clarke, Sally Menk and Kay Miller.

Top 100 Ranking

For the third straight year, Community College Week magazine named Pensacola State College to its list of Top 100 Associate Degree Producers in the nation.

Community College Week's June 13 issue ranked Pensacola State No. 9 under four-year institutions for associate degrees awarded in Liberal Arts and Sciences, General Studies and Humanities. Pensacola State placed No. 23 under four-year institutions for associate degrees awarded in all disciplines.

The college also ranked in the Top 100 for associate degrees awarded in three categories: African Americans, American Indians and Non-Minorities.

"This data shows we have a support system — academic advisors, financial aid, caring faculty — to give our students every opportunity to succeed," said President Ed Meadows.

Inaugural Classes Begin for Baccalaureate Programs

Jan. 6, 2011 was an historic day for Pensacola State as students began classes in the college's first baccalaureate programs.

Open to students with associate degrees, the Bachelor of Applied Science program welcomed 99 students in areas of Graphic Design, Health Care Management, Organizational Administration and Public Safety/Public Service.

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing program welcomed 59 licensed registered nurses with associate degrees.

30th Annual Summer Dance Workshop

Pensacola State presented its 30th annual Summer Dance Workshop in June. Each year, hundreds of dancers from across the country flock to the college's prestigious dance workshop to study with nationally renowned dance instructors. Classes cover ballet, tap, jazz, hip-hop, contemporary, choreography, theatre dance and school dance team.

Dorothy Daniels Lister conducts a ballet class.

The new BAS and BSN programs offer flexible schedules and online classes to benefit working students who are seeking career advancement and retraining. Both bachelor's degree programs transfer to master's degree programs, further opening doors for leadership positions and higher salaries.

The college sought extensive input from the surrounding business community to develop baccalaureate programs that better serve the needs of Northwest Florida.

Celebrating Diversity

Dramatic readings, concerts and lectures are just a few ways Pensacola State incorporates diversity into classroom and communitywide events. A popular three-part film series unveiled the history of black Pullman porters, black pirates and black mariners. The series was open to the public and sponsored by the college's Black History/Multicultural Committee, the African American Heritage Society and the Florida Humanities Council.

Highlighting the year was the 20th annual Multicultural Honors Program hosted in the Student Center. This event honors all multicultural seniors who have a minimum 3.0 grade point average from Escambia and Santa Rosa counties. Twenty-eight Pensacola State scholarships were awarded.

New Programs

In response to workforce opportunities, Pensacola State launched six new programs leading to associate degrees and certificates: Advanced Esthetics, Certified Nursing Assistant, Information Security, Pharmacy Technology, Veterinary Technology and 9-1-1 Dispatcher.

More than 1,600 children added Kids' College to their summer adventures, and about 115 toddlers and preschoolers splashed through the swim program. Shown above are Cicely Hooks and her daughter Amiyah at Mommy and Me swim lessons.

STAR Students Shine

To improve retention and success among first-generation students, Pensacola State developed Support for Transition to Academic Readiness. The STAR program guides students through college with a STAR advising team and a checkpoint system that identifies academic problems early and provides help.

Data collected during the program's first three years indicates higher retention and success rates for STAR students than for similar at-risk students who did not participate in the program.

STAR student Andrea Hunt is shown with the computer she received for winning an essay contest.

CSI Santa Rosa

Crime Scene Investigation students learned how to excavate a crime scene from law enforcement professionals. The event was treated exactly like a real crime scene and was supervised by the Santa Rosa County Sheriff's Office CSI team. Pensacola State's CSI certification program employs hands-on projects to make students more competitive with local law enforcement hiring practices.

Program News

- The Health Information Management program had a 100 percent pass rate on the Registered Health Information Technician national examination.
- The Sonography program completed requirements to become recognized by the American Registry of Radiology Technologists.
- Coleman Barks, acclaimed for his translations of the ancient Persian poet Rumi, was the featured guest at the fifth annual Outstanding Poets Series sponsored by the English/Communications Department and the Lyceum Series.
- On the first anniversary of the Deepwater Horizon oil spill, students in public speaking classes presented an online conference focusing on environmental and economic issues resulting from the oil spill. Students responded to questions and interacted with the public during the four-day conference.

Permanent Art Collection Marks 40 Years

The 40th anniversary of the college's permanent art collection was celebrated with an exhibition at the Anna Lamar Switzer Center for Visual Arts on the Pensacola campus.

Pensacola State's permanent art collection contains about 500 pieces of artwork, including contemporary American art, photography, ceramics, drawings, prints, glass, sculpture, graphic design, jewelry, textiles, historical pieces and works from masters such as Picasso and Matisse.

Athletics

Good Sports

The Pirates participated in nearly 30 community service projects, such as hosting youth sports camps, tutoring elementary school students, donating blood, giving Christmas gifts to Sacred Heart Children's Hospital patients, and fundraising for United Way, American Heart Association and American Cancer Society. Approximately 120 Pensacola State College athletes from each of the five intercollegiate sports teams as well as cheer and dance participated in the Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Mall to Mall Walk in October.

For the 15th year, baseball Pirates unloaded 1,700 pumpkins for the community pumpkin patch at Allen Memorial Methodist Church.

The Pensacola State College volleyball team won the FCCAA Panhandle Conference Championship for the eighth time in 10 years.

Softball players teamed with Pensacola North Rotary on a crisp October Saturday to help build a house for Habitat for Humanity.

National Basketball All-Star Event

Pensacola State hosted the third annual National Junior College Women's Basketball All-Star event in July 2011 at the Lou Ross Center. The nationwide recruiting opportunity drew 40 of the best junior college players in the country and more than 150 university coaches. Pensacola State players Jasmine Richardson and Ronika Ransford competed in the event.

For the first time, the All-Star weekend included a coaching clinic and the NJCAA Women's Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame Dinner.

Winning in the Classroom

At Pensacola State, a winning season includes top performance in the classroom as well as the sports arena.

During 2010 – 2011, the Pirates produced four Academic All-American winners, 16 Academic All-State winners and 31 Academic All-Conference winners.

Pensacola State led the Panhandle Conference in All-Conference academic awards. The closest competitor was Tallahassee Community College with 23 awards.

Additionally, the second-year athletes achieved an 83 percent academic completion rate.

"This year, 29 of 35 sophomore athletes at Pensacola State went on to four-year colleges after the May graduation," says Athletic Director Bill Hamilton. "This success rate is far above the completion rate of non-athletes after two years at most community colleges."

Spectacular Season for Lady Pirates

The Lady Pirates basketball team, coached by Chanda Rigby, made history with a record-breaking season that ended 35-1, with 34 straight wins.

Lady Pirates won the Florida Community College Activities Association 2011 State Championship for the first time since 1985, the Panhandle Conference Championship for the first time since 1994, and returned from the National Junior College Athletic Association finals ranked No. 3 in the nation.

Rigby was named FCCAA State and Panhandle Conference Coach of the Year. Meghan Perkins was named FCCAA State and Panhandle Conference Player of the Year, and Jessica Merritt was named FCCAA State Tournament Most Valuable Player.

The Florida House of Representatives and Florida Senate passed resolutions honoring the team and coaches for representing Florida in the NJCAA National Tournament in Kansas.

The Lady Pirates capped their stellar season with an academic victory – all eight sophomore players earned their degrees and received scholarships to NCAA Division I universities.

Hall of Fame

Pensacola State College Athletics Director Bill Hamilton was inducted into the Pensacola Sports Association's Hall of Fame in March 2011 during the PSA's 57th annual awards banquet at New World Landing.

Athletic Alumni Recognition

- Maxine Farmer, 1981-82 alum, was inducted into the FCCAA Women's Basketball Hall of Fame during the March 2011 state tournament in Marianna. Higher Learning, Higher Tech

Up-to-date facilities that operate efficiently are a top priority for the college.

- Video monitors were placed in public access areas on each campus to provide information, direction and urgent notification to students, faculty, staff and visitors.
- Twenty-five classrooms were equipped with new technology.
- Milton campus Student Affairs building was remodeled and new furnishings were added.
- Energy-saving projects and recycling were implemented on all campuses.

New Learning Center

The new Collaborative Learning Center in the Chadbourne Library features six student stations equipped with an interactive display mounted on a 360-degree rotating base. An additional station is provided for the instructor.

Students can work together and then display their projects on any of the three larger video screens on the walls. The instructor controls which station is displayed, and students (and/or the instructor) can easily edit presentations on the interactive display as needed. Up to three different student stations may be simultaneously displayed on the larger screens.

Building Progress

Construction on the $9.4 million South Santa Rosa Center began in October 2010. The two-story, multi-use facility stayed on track for opening in January 2012.

- Major renovations costing about $600,000 were made to Warrington campus Building 3200 in preparation for the college's new Veterinary Technology program, slated for fall 2011.
- Cosmetology salon and spa on the Pensacola campus underwent an extensive $750,000 renovation with completion slated for fall 2011.

Students benefitted from the newly renovated math lab on the Pensacola campus through 15,000 student visits and 22,000 hours of tutoring in the 2010-2011 academic year.

Students

With more than 60 student organizations available and a packed calendar of events, students at Pensacola State College have many opportunities for scholastic achievement, leadership, travel and community involvement.

- More than 145 Student Excellence Awards were bestowed at the annual honors day ceremony in April, including 11 Leadership Awards, 69 Scholastic Achievement Awards, 14 Department Scholar Awards, 22 Program Scholar Awards and 20 Service Awards.
- Five Pensacola State College students were named to the 2011 All-Florida Academic Team. Anne Benaue, Wesley Greene, Maria Zilda Hyatt, Steven Jones and Maribeth Soyka were chosen for this honor based on exceptional academic achievement, leadership and community service.
- Pensacola State was named a 2011 Military Friendly School by G. I. Jobs magazine. The honor ranks Pensacola State in the top 15 percent of all colleges, universities and trade schools nationwide doing the most to embrace America's veterans as students.
- In fall 2010, a new student organization, Student Veterans of America, was established to promote veteran awareness on campus with student veteran Chad Mitchell serving as the first president.
- Visual Arts student Carrie Hunter won the Daytona Beach Film Festival Best Screenplay Award for her film, "Ariel," in the short film category.
- Issue, the college's literary magazine, won first place in photography and third place in art works at the Florida Community College Press Association's annual convention.
- The Piano Ensemble, directed by Kadisha Onalbayeva, dedicated its spring concert to the late Robert Sherwood, a professor of piano at the college from 1972 to 1998. The program featured original works and arrangements by Sherwood and a variety of composers.
- More than 500 local high school students explored health career options at the annual Health Career Fair on the Warrington campus.
- The Mathematics Department held a math camp on codebreaking for high school students, as part of the prestigious Florida Governor's Summer Program. During the free, three-week course, students explored the mathematics behind codebreaking to earn three hours of college credit.

Music and Theatre students Rickie Fontaneau (left) and McKenzie Ongalo won the 2010 Great Gulfcoast Arts Festival's Suzi Beane Perry Art Scholarship. The scholarship recognizes outstanding students in visual, performing and communication arts.

Greene

National Scholarship Winner

Phi Theta Kappa member Wesley Greene was honored with two prestigious national scholarships.

He was one of 20 students nationwide selected for the 2011 Guistwhite Scholarship based on academic achievement, Phi Theta Kappa participation and community service. Green received a Guistwhite Scholar medallion and a $5,000 scholarship for baccalaureate studies.

Greene also was named a 2011 Coca-Cola Community College Academic Team Gold Scholar based on scores earned in the All-USA Community College Academic Team competition. Green received a $1,500 stipend and a special medallion.

Collegiate High School students ranked third out of 10 Florida collegiate high schools in the overall success rate (Level 3-5) on the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test.

ADDY Awards

Pensacola State College Visual Arts students won 22 awards at the American Advertising Federation/Pensacola ADDY Awards Gala in February.

Rebecca Hogan won Best of Show and the Mosaic Award that is given for the best of all professional and student submissions. Hogan was the first student ever to win the Mosaic Award at the Pensacola ADDY ceremony.

Winners of the nine gold, eight silver and five bronze medals were Miranda Anderson, Joshua Guidroz, Rebecca Hogan, Brittney Merritt, Camille Nettles, Amelia Sargent, Kristiana Todorova and Chris White.

Climbing the Business Ladder

Pensacola State's chapter of Alpha Beta Gamma International Business Honor Society received recognition at the national conference in Cozumel, Mexico.

The Alpha Alpha chapter received the National Service Project Scholarship for its Zimbabwe Orphanage Project. The chapter collected about 4,000 pounds of books, clothing and medical supplies for the orphanage that also operates as a public school.

Additionally, Michael Mangosing won the Eva Bobrow Medallion of Excellence Award, and Liz Faires won the Ester Cross-Carter Memorial Essay Scholarship.

Healthy Competition

Pensacola State's chapter of Health Occupations Students of America hosted the Region I HOSA Conference, drawing more than 500 students to the Warrington campus in January.

In state competition, the chapter netted 11 awards, including first place for the HOSA Bowl team and four individual first place awards. Five students also were recognized as finalists on the National Health Care Issues Exam.

In national competition, Theresa Hoang won a bronze medal. Top 10 in the Nation recognition went to Kieya Layton, Rachelle Jiongco and the HOSA Bowl team of Zachary Hastings, Gwen Houlihan and Talacey Phillips.

Headlining the News

Pensacola State's student newspaper, The Corsair, garnered honors for its print and online editions in October 2010. In national competition, the newspaper's website, eCorsair.com, won its second Associated Collegiate Press Online Pacemaker Award at the National College Media convention in Louisville, Ky.

In state competition, The Corsair won its sixth straight General Excellence Award and eight staff members won individual awards at the Florida Community College Press Association's annual convention.

The Theta Chi chapter of Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society received the following recognition: Five-Star Chapter Award for the second straight year; Distinguished Chapter Award, one of only 10 given statewide; and the Regional Fellowship Chapter Award. Opening Worlds of Possibilities

Almost 2,000 eighth graders from Escambia and Santa Rosa county schools attended the first annual SkillsUSA/ Worlds of Possibilities

Career Expo on the Pensacola campus in February.

The free event showcased businesses and vendors in technical and vocational career fields by engaging students with exciting hands-on activities.

Pensacola State College partnered with the Pensacola Bay Area Chamber of Commerce, Visit Pensacola, TEAM Santa Rosa, Gulf Power Co., Associated General Contractors and local school districts to present the free event.

SkillsUSA is a national organization that helps students enrolled in career and technical education programs to excel by teaching problem solving and leadership in conjunction with trade, technical and service occupations skills.

Pensacola State students participating in SkillsUSA received numerous awards throughout the year. In regional competition, SkillsUSA students won 34 awards with 18 first place awards.

In state competition, SkillsUSA students won three gold medals, 12 silver medals and four bronze medals. Nursing professor Mary Turner was named SkillsUSA Florida Advisor of the Year.

In national competition, Latisha Neal and Alexis Akers won bronze medals, and Joni Verlin was named to the Top 10 in the Nation.

Pensacola State's Jazz Ensemble performed at the prestigious Jazz Educators Network national convention in New Orleans. Directed by Roger Villines, the 18-member ensemble performed in the historic Roosevelt Hotel before 2,000 educators, students and professional musicians from around the world. The ensemble was one of five college/university bands selected for the conference.

Students and faculty celebrate the opening day of PJC in 1948.

Pensacola State College's Historic Beginning

Pensacola State College President Ed Meadows and Pensacola Mayor Ashton Hayward unveiled the Florida Heritage Site Historical Marker honoring the original location of Pensacola Junior College, now Pensacola State College, June 30, 2011.

Community leaders joined college trustees, alumni and staff for the ceremony.

On Sept. 13, 1948, PJC classes began with a handful of faculty and 136 students in the Aiken Boarding House on the corner of Cervantes and Palafox streets. Shortly after the morning flag-raising, the rambling, old Victorian house was transformed into Florida's first public junior college created under the Minimum Foundation Program Act of 1947.

"The importance of this college is why the Florida Department of State's Historical Commission has named this a Florida Heritage Site," Meadows said.

Hayward called attention to the college's influence on the community for more than 60 years.

"Pensacola State College is truly the fabric of this community," Hayward said. "It began with great hope for the future and many of today's leaders got their start at this college."

Charles and Clora King, members of the 1948 class, instigated the quest to recognize the college's original site with a marker.

Larry Bracken, the college's executive director for government relations, worked with Florida's Division of Historic Preservation for almost two years to acquire the marker.

Inaugural alumni shared fond memories of college life at the Aiken House — classes in the parlor, ping pong games in the basement, PE in the backyard and dances on the veranda.

Pensacola dentist Clement Barfield reminisced about his father, the late Jessie Barfield, one of the college's original administrators and faculty members.

"My dad taught a class while standing in a closet, with students seated in what had been a bedroom," Dr. Barfield said with a chuckle.

Clora Stewart King recalled that PJC made college possible for many students.

"I know I personally would never have made it to college without PJC," she said. "But we made it because it was here."

Class of 1948 alumni at the historical marker celebration included James Baggett, Donald Baisden, Mildred Daw, James Eggart, William Fagerstrom, Charles and Clora King, Robert Mackey and Billy Merritt.

Joining the dedication festivities were Pensacola State College trustees

Carol Carlan, Ed Moore, Margie Moore, Dona Usry, Herb Woll and Deidre Young and Foundation board members Mike Wiggins, Ken Woolf and Sparkie Folkers.

Serving the Community

On the United Way Day of Caring, 17 Education Club students and two faculty members volunteered at Longleaf Elementary School, painting a map of the United States on the sidewalk and helping in the classrooms.

Pensacola State College's first Florida Campus Compact AmeriCorps*VISTA volunteer, Grace Bohnhoff, led the charge in providing service learning opportunities to students in classrooms, clubs and student activities. More than 350 Pensacola State students participated in service projects during the year.

The college's top Individual Volunteer Service Award went to Steven Jones and Maribeth Soyka and the Group Volunteer Service Award went to the Student Government Association on the Milton campus.

- Student Veterans Association, Veterans Upward Bound and the Pensacola campus SGA hosted a Thank-a-Vet Barbeque in observance of Veteran's Day. Activities included writing Christmas notes to be sent to men and women serving in the military.
- During its fall food drive, Milton campus SGA collected 8,400 pounds of non-perishable food for Manna Food Bank.
- Collegiate High School students collected more than 600 books in memory of Gabriel Carter, a local teen. The books were donated to Carter's sixth-grade reading teacher, Delaine Wright, at Bellview Middle School.
- About 240 children received much needed dental treatments at Give Kids a Smile Day hosted by the Warrington campus dental clinic. About 60 Dental Hygiene students assisted volunteers from the Escambia-Santa Rosa Dental Society for the annual event.

The Warrington campus SGA and Phi Theta Kappa cooked dinner for about 100 homeless people at Loaves and Fishes Soup Kitchen.

About 30 HVAC, plumbing and carpentry students, along with Milton campus SGA students and faculty supervisors, helped construct the Pensacola house featured in the ABC television show, "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition," that aired in December.

- Astronomy Club, Escambia Amateur Astronomers and StarTrek's Continuum Chapter worked with the college's Planetarium staff to host "Yuri's Night," an international celebration of 50 years of manned space exploration. The free event included NASA exhibits, moon rocks, meteorites, free planetarium shows and telescopes set up for viewing the evening sky.
- The Milton campus hosted its 17th annual American Cancer Society Relay for Life, the oldest in Florida. Milton's Relay for Life team raised $1,940, including $570 from the Cosmetology Club Cut-a-Thon. Concessions at the Milton campus Lumberjack Festival added another $1,262 for Relay for Life.
- Ten Cosmetology students and three instructors gave free haircuts to 114 children getting ready for kindergarten through fifth grade at the Back-to-School Bash in Pace.
- Chili Cook-Offs on each campus raised almost $500 for United Way projects.

At the Pensacola VA Clinic Stand Down for Homeless Veterans, Student Veterans of America provided information on veterans' education benefits. Student volunteers distributed supplies, and cosmetology students gave 72 haircuts and 18 manicures.

Students in John Holder's Ethics class combined learning and service through volunteer projects at Manna Food Bank.

About 150 bowls, hand-crafted by local artists, were sold at "Pick a Bowl for Manna," the annual fundraiser hosted by the Visual Arts Department for Manna Food Bank. Along with donations, the bowl sales raised $4,300 — more than twice the amount raised in previous years.

More than 31 community organizations and 15 college clubs participated in the college's first Volunteer Fair and College Club Fair rolled into one. The event provided students with new ways to boost their resumes and enjoy their college experience.

The Student Volunteer Council participated in the Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service at the Bay Area Food Bank in Milton. They discarded out-of-date items, picked up trash and weeded flower beds.

Nearly 50 employers and 670 job seekers participated in the second annual Community Career Fair, co-hosted by Student Job Services and Workforce Escarosa.

At the Pensacola VA Clinic Stand Down for Homeless Veterans, Nursing Club students performed more than 100 medical screenings.

Throughout the year, Pensacola State students and employees participated in fundraising for the American Heart Association. Cosmetology students raised funds with manicures in the Student Center, and Heart Walk participants raised more than $1,800.

Center photo: SGA representatives from all campuses participated in the Ronald McDonald House Charities Fire Truck Pull in October. The 20-student team successfully pulled the 80,000-pound fire truck 50 feet in 14.8 seconds to raise funds for Ronald McDonald House in Pensacola.

Foundation Reaching Near and Far

Scholarships, books, cutting-edge technology, distinguished artists and speakers, high-tech facilities — these are just a few ways the Pensacola State College Foundation helps turn dreams into reality.

Caddell and Robinson

Celebrating Leadership

The Foundation celebrated accomplishments, recognized distinguished alumni and welcomed new officers at the 2010 Leadership Appreciation Dinner.

Outgoing Foundation President Grover Robinson IV passed the gavel to 2010-2012 President Pam Hunt Caddell and the Foundation Board welcomed new members Gary Sammons, Kerry Ann Schultz, Mark Smith and Mike Werner.

Karen Hendrix received the Foundation's Distinguished Volunteer Award for her tireless efforts in chairing events that support the college's Annual Fund.

Hendrix

Three distinguished alumni were recognized for their career and community contributions.

• Bill Peters, 1961 alum and NASA engineer, received the Lifetime Achievement/National Impact Award. His career spanned the Gemini/ Agena missions, Apollo lunar missions, Space Shuttle missions, and the International Space Station. During the 1970 Apollo 13 crisis, Peters played a key role in repairing the damaged spacecraft and ensuring the safe return of the three astronauts.

Peters

• Sandy Sansing, 1967 alum and local businessman, received the Lifetime Achievement/Community Impact Award for his far-reaching community support that includes sponsoring more than 55 Little League baseball teams, partnering with WEAR-TV to support various outreach projects, and providing on-going assistance to six local schools through Partners in Education.

Sansing

• Namrata Advani, 2003 alum and award-winning graphic designer, received the Early Career Achievement Award for her involvement in establishing an internship program at Lamar Advertising for Visual Arts students and her involvement on the college's Graphic Design committee in advancing the curriculum to meet professional needs.

2010-2011 Foundation Highlights

- 2,754 scholarships worth $897,627.89 were awarded to deserving students.
- 157 Pensacola State students received First Generation Scholarships totaling $90,151.00. First Generation scholarships are awarded to students whose parents do not have college degrees. Donations are matched dollar-for-dollar by the state.
- $96,413 was raised for Annual Fund at the festive Holiday Grande Gala held at Sanders Beach-Corinne Jones Community Center.
- $36,500 was raised for the Universal Scholarship Fund through the annual Sporting Clay Shoot and the Big Break Cox Golf Classic.
- $25,000 was raised for the Anna Lamar Switzer Center for Visual Arts through the "Christo and Jeanne-Claude: Prints and Objects" exhibition and lecture by Christo.
- 1,500 Pensacola State alumni and friends stay connected through the online community at alumni.pensacolastate.edu.

Recognizing a Visionary Leader

Longtime Pensacola State College supporter Bobby Switzer of Lamar Advertising received the Silver Medal Award at the American Advertising Federation/Pensacola ADDY Awards Gala. Switzer was recognized for his civic involvement and for being at the forefront of the outdoor advertising industry both in creativity and environmental awareness.

Keeping PACE in the Community

Foundation Governors Mike Wiggins and Jim Reeves were honored at the 51st Annual PACE Awards hosted by the Pensacola Bay Area Chamber of Commerce.

Wiggins received the Spirit of Pensacola Award for his years of service to the community as a city councilman and mayor.

Reeves received the Pioneer Award for his commitment to the Pensacola Little Theatre, Irish Politician's Club, and the Community Maritime Park Board among other organizations.

As the Robinson Honors program celebrated its 10th anniversary, 51 students — a record-breaking number — explored the ancient cities of Italy and the breathtaking views of Switzerland. Established in memory of Sandra and Grover Robinson III by Jill and Grover Robinson IV, the honors program began in August 2000. During its first decade, more than 150 students studied in Italy and Switzerland, and more than 50 studied at Cambridge University in England, according to Charlie Schuler, honors program director. “Some of our students have traveled very little before entering this program,” he said. “Through the generosity of the Robinson gift, these trips open a world of learning opportunities for our students.”

Outfitting King Lear

The Music and Theatre Department’s production of “King Lear” packed the Ashmore Auditorium with the highest attendance for a non-musical serious drama since 2005. A grant from BBVA Compass Bank Foundation’s Community Giving Program enabled the college to rent high-quality costumes from New York that contributed to the production’s success, according to Theatre Director Rodney Whatley.

Christo Wraps Up Switzer Distinguished Artist Award

Renowned artist Christo was honored as the 2011 Switzer Distinguished Artist. With his late wife Jeanne-Claude, Christo gained international acclaim creating spectacular large-scale artworks such as the saffron nylon gates in New York’s Central Park and 25-mile fabric fence across northern California.

A record-breaking 21,082 visitors came to the “Christo and Jeanne-Claude: Prints and Objects” exhibition at the Switzer Gallery during its nine-week stay, and nearly 900 art enthusiasts filled the Saenger Theatre for Christo’s lecture and book signing in February.

The Anna Lamar Switzer Distinguished Artist Series was established through a major gift from the Switzer and Reilly families to bring artists of national and international reputation to the Switzer Center for an exhibition and lecture open to students and the community.

Award-Winning Public Television

WSRE, PBS for the Gulf Coast, inspires viewers to explore new ideas, discover new worlds and broaden personal horizons.

Original Productions Win Awards

WSRE received an Emmy nomination for the original documentary "Gulf Islands National Seashore: The Treasure of the Gulf Coast."

The station also won two Bronze Telly Awards for the original documentaries "Lighthouses of the Gulf Coast: Sand Island to St. Marks" and "Ashley Brown in Concert: Call Me Irresponsible."

WSRE has won eight national Telly Awards for original programming since 2008.

In the Spotlight

Michael Johnson has served on the WSRE Foundation Board since 2005, serving as chair from 2009 to 2010. He grew up in Pensacola, graduated from Woodham High School and has been with State Farm Insurance since 1981. Johnson is a member of the Pensacola Bay Area Chamber of Commerce and has been actively involved at WSRE in fundraising, serving as chair and co-chair of the annual Wine & Food Classic for several years as well as serving on the Investment Committee, Executive Committee and the Major Giving Campaign. WSRE honors Mike and his wife Phyllis as major donors.

Teri Levin has served on the WSRE Foundation Board since 2005, and is currently serving as secretary of the board and supporting WSRE's work in the community through the WSRE Major Giving Campaign. A true community leader and philanthropist with a servant's heart, Levin volunteers for a number of organizations and non-profits throughout Northwest Florida. She has supported WSRE's Wine & Food Classic as a committee member for several years, serving as honorary chair in 2011 for the 23rd annual event. WSRE is privileged to have Teri Levin as a major donor, supporter and board member.

Demetria McNeese joined the WSRE Board of Directors in 2010. Demetria and her husband Richard moved to Destin and opened McNeese Title, LLC in 2003 where she is vice president. Her business and marketing acumen began early in her career in Nashville, where she co-owned and managed a music publishing company that produced a number of Top 20 hits. Demetria has served as chair and co-chair of WSRE's Destin Wine & Food events since joining the WSRE Foundation Board. WSRE is honored to have Demetria's expertise and leadership in the Okaloosa/Walton community.

Live from the Amos Performance Studio

The 500-seat Jean and Paul Amos Performance Studio welcomed nationally acclaimed artists John Tesh and Ashley Brown to the stage for high-definition broadcast performances taped before live audiences.

The eight-week concert series, StudioAmped, again featured regional bands performing original music in its third on-air season.

Jody Abernathy, lead singer for The Internationals, at StudioAmped

Lively Library Week

WSRE partnered with regional libraries in Pensacola, Milton and Fort Walton Beach to help bridge the summer reading gap for 200 children. The week of free literary activities and appearances by PBS KIDS costume characters helped combat the summer reading slump and prepare young students for the school year ahead.

Friends and Fundraisers

WSRE hosted PBS President and CEO Paula Kerger at a celebration honoring lifetime WSRE donors Phyllis and Michael Johnson, the Lovoy family, James and Nell Potter, Colleen Rogers, and Harry and Pamela Schwartz.

Elba Robertson was honored as the namesake for a new award, The Elba Robertson Lifetime Advocacy Award, bestowed upon individuals who demonstrate a true commitment and passion for public broadcasting in their communities. The first award was given posthumously to longtime supporter John Alderfer.

Robertson

WSRE's yearlong Envisionit! Campaign raised more than $800,000 in much needed funds to continue the support of local programming production, the station's endowment fund and broadcast technology enhancement.

The annual WSRE Wine & Food Classic events in Pensacola and Destin raised about $180,000. For the first time, the Pensacola event included two evenings of festivities to give more people the opportunity to participate. WSRE's second annual spring Tea-Licious fundraiser garnered nearly $10,000. The afternoon event also honored local businesswoman Patricia Windham for her years of dedicated support for and service to WSRE.

Gulf Oil Spill Recovery Partner

WSRE was one of 10 public television and radio stations forming the Gulf Coast Consortium, a multi-media project to expand news reporting in the aftermath of the BP oil spill. The consortium received a $538,000 grant from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting to support local journalism efforts to cover the crisis and share content and provide community forums online and at town hall meetings.

New Online Video Player

WSRE launched a new video player online. The state-of-the-art player offers on-demand, free video, including full-length local documentaries, episodes from local programs such as "Conversations with Jeff Weeks," "Connecting the Community," "StudioAmped" and national PBS programs. The video player also offers curated collections of content culled from PBS' deep archives, including compilations of historical, political and scientific materials.

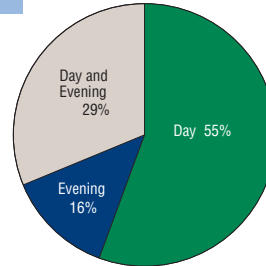

"History Detectives" Follows Clues to Pensacola

Investigators for the popular PBS series "History Detectives" followed clues to the Pensacola National Naval Aviation Museum. "History Detectives" host Elyse Luray brought a 1940s propeller found along a rural airstrip in Illinois to experts at the museum to help her place the propeller in its proper historical context.
