Citing of books and articles read in a library database follows the same rules as citing for print sources, with the addition of the following:

Available from name of database. URL/ (accessed date).

Turabian’s 6th edition contains very few examples of citing online sources. The examples below are based on The Chicago Manual of Style, 15th edition, University of Chicago Press, 2003. For footnote/endnote examples, see the Turabian Citing Print Sources guide.

eBooks:

Journal articles:

Magazine articles:

Newspaper articles: According to the 6th ed., “news items from daily papers are rarely listed separately in a bibliography or Reference list. If a newspaper is cited only once or twice, a note or a parenthetical reference in the text is sufficient.”
