USE OF TURNITIN:

All writing assignments in this course will be submitted to Turnitin via Canvas. Turnitin generates a report on the originality of your writing by comparing it with a database of periodicals, books, online content, student papers, and other published work. This report can help you discern when you are using sources fairly, citing properly, and paraphrasing effectively -- skills essential to all academic work. Turnitin also generates a report that assesses the possibility that all or part of an essay may have been created through use of artificial intelligence (AI). If the Turnitin report indicates the possibility of AI generated work, the instructor may ask you to rework the paper to make sure it is in your words.

Students agree that by taking this course all required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of Turnitin.com page service is subject to the Usage Policy and Privacy Pledge posted on the Turnitin.com site.

It is highly recommended that you submit your paper early enough to review your Turnitin.com report before the final due date of your paper. Then, if necessary, you will have time to ask for help from the instructor or someone at the Writing Center.

EXAMS:

The three course exams will be a combination of multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank, and short essay.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS:

You will be submitting three written assignments throughout the semester. The due dates are clearly noted in the course schedule above. Each will cover major themes and issues covered in the textbook and in the class lectures. In each of these assignments, you will argue/take a side on a topic. These written assignments MUST be submitted electronically via Turnitin. You will be issued topics/prompts at least one week before each writing assignment is due. Length will range from 2 - 4 pages, double spaced, using 12-point font, with one-inch margins, and page numbers at the bottom center. For reference, one double-spaced page is approximately 250 words, so your papers should be between 500 - 1000 words total.

COURSE POLICIES:

Quizzes and Tests - Quizzes CANNOT be made up. If you are absent on the day a quiz is given, you will receive a 'zero' (0) grade for that quiz. Exams must be complete within the timeframe given on Canvas. In case of a legitimate emergency, the instructor may give you the chance to make up a missed exam, but there will be a penalty deduction of 5%.

Homework - Reading assignments as well as written assignments are documented on the course schedule above. Students are expected to come to class ready to discuss the readings.

Class Participation - If you are absent, you will not be allowed to make up any in-class assignments or quizzes. An important component of this course is class discussion of current political events. You are expected to contribute to the discussion. Excessive absences and/or lack of participation in class discussions can impact your grade.

Talking or texting on a cell phone while class is in session is not allowed. If special circumstances/emergencies arise, please inform the instructor.

Class disruptions, including but not limited to persistent talking while the instructor or another student is speaking could result in your being asked to leave the class. If you are asked to leave class for violating class policy you will be counted absent from class and may not be allowed to make up work from that day.

ATTENDANCE POLICY:

Regular class attendance and consistent class participation are significant factors that promote student success. Each student is expected to attend all class meetings of all courses for which they are registered. Each student is responsible for knowing and adhering to the faculty member's attendance policy for each course taken. Excessive absences can affect the course grade, course completion, and financial aid funding.

Instructor's Absence Policy: If you miss more than 1 class this semester, you are considered excessively absent and your final grade for the class will be impacted by those absences. A 5% of final grade attendance/participation component has been built into the grading calculations. More than one absence during the semester will impact that percentage in a negative way. The college only grants "excused" absences for students to participate in officially sanctioned events such as athletic or academic competitions. A note from a doctor will not excuse an absence.

Pirates CARE Student Resource Center

As a student, you may experience challenges that can interfere with your academic and personal success. These can include things such as basic needs (food, housing, transportation, healthcare, etc.), increased anxiety, depression, substance use, grief, or other stressful experiences. The Pirates CARE Student Resource Center provides free services to students, including emergency aid, campus food pantries, career clothing closets, connections to local resources for basic needs support, and confidential mental health counseling services provided in-person or via telehealth.
