Final Grade Calculation:(15) Quizzes (25%)

Students are required and assigned to complete one 'chapter' quiz each week that will be administered through our online Canvas course that is linked to this in-person ARH 2000 – Humanities Art course, section, and the assigned open-source text. This weekly assignment will cover lectures, readings, videos, discussion(s) and the cumulative online quiz for the individually assigned 'chapter', which is due at the culmination of each meeting session / week, unless otherwise designated by the instructor. The Canvas Modules are not subject to change and student must maintain the overall scheduled pace of the course. Late work will receive an overall deduction in the potential grade at the discretion of the instructor. Any proposed deadline extension must be approved by the instructor prior to the assignment due date.

(15) Critical Review Responses (25%)

Students are required to submit one Critical Review Response statement regarding the provided prompt each week that outlines their newly learned information, content, and concepts. Students must provide their own created content based upon the assigned readings, discussions, and other coursework throughout the course.

(15) Daily Discussion Boards (25%)

Each week you will be required to participate in class discussions. Students are required to contribute to the Daily Discussion each week that is directly connected to the content covered in that assigned Module(s). The Daily Discussion(s) must remain aligned with the assigned weekly chapter readings and content, but should also reflect the individual student's personal experiences, perspectives, associations, opinions and thoughts related to this content. The student's goal is to establish a thoughtful and considered link to the Module(s) content and its relatability to contemporary society. Students should also provide mindful and measured judgement when contributing to the required engagement with their peers each week.

During our in-class Daily Discussion, please engage with at least ONE peer with thoughtful and connected feedback. To receive full credit, you are required to engage with in our thoughtful group discussion by communicating your 'takeaway' with TWO peers in the Daily Discussion before the end of the scheduled course meeting session.

Final Exam / GELO Essay (25%)

The Final Exam will be fully comprehensive to the ARH 2000 – Humanities Art course. The exam is based on the weekly quizzes and course content. No late submissions of the Final Exam for the course will be accepted. The GELO Essay will consist of a (550) word, evidence supported conclusive prompt. The Final Exam will be administered via the secure, online Proctorio platform.

5. Students will generate an analytical response to works of visual art and material culture in the works' cultural context.

Attendance Policies: Regular class attendance and consistent class participation are significant factors that promote student success. Each student is expected to attend all class meetings of all courses for which he or she is registered. The student is also expected to follow any attendance policy included on the course syllabus.

Attendance Verification for the First Week of Classes: Attendance during the first week of classes is mandatory. Each instructor is required to verify attendance for each registered student, and any student who has yet to attend at least one (1) class meeting during the first week of classes may be dropped from the class. A student registered for a distance learning course must log in to the course via the College's Learning Management System, Canvas, access course content, and complete the remotely proctored Attendance Verification Quiz; completion of the Attendance Verification Quiz requires the use of a webcam and reliable internet services. Distance learning students who fail to complete the quiz may be dropped from the class.

Failure to attend class during the first week of class or throughout the term may result in revocation or reduction of financial aid. A student is responsible for adhering to the deadlines for schedule adjustment and should drop any class section he or she does not intend to complete. The student should not assume that any class section will be dropped for him or her.

A student who is dropped for not attending the first week of class may discuss reinstatement with a Student Services Advisor. If the reinstatement is not approved, the student may petition the Student Academic Appeals Committee for reinstatement.

Attendance policies differ between credit hour programs and clock hour certificate programs. Consult the appropriate attendance policy for more information.

Attendance / Tardiness / Withdrawal: Students are required to attend and actively engage in the course each week and maintain an appropriate amount of participation in the presented materials and discussions. Being present, alert, contributive, and involved in the coursework is required and not limited to any individual course meeting format. The following attendance policy has been implemented in the best interest of the student and is in accordance with the PSC Attendance Policy detailed in the Student Handbook.

Class participation is an important part of the learning process and is therefore expected of each student. You must participate; read and respond to daily discussions, review the lecture notes and PowerPoints, participate in the practice activities, check your course email, etc.

Students are permitted a total of (3) absences in this course before overall grade deductions will be enforced. A student with a (4th) absence and beyond, will drop by one letter grade per absence(s). Meaning, a (4th) absence will result in the highest overall course grade being a 'B', and (5th) absence resulting in a 'C', and (6th) resulting in a 'D' and if a (7th) absence occurs, the overall grade for the course is a 'F' or failure. Students that are late by more than (10) minutes to the required meeting pattern will be counted towards the overall absence policy whereas two late arrivals are the equivalent of one absence. This too reflects the overall scoring for the course.

Late Submissions / Assignment(s): Any assignments submitted after the assigned due date(s) are / maybe subject to point deductions at the discretion of the Instructor.

[F] Grade Assigned Early: A grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, may be assigned by an instructor before the end of the term, in any of the following circumstances.

After the 70th percent point of a course, an instructor may assign an F, which will appear on the permanent record, to a student who has stopped attending class.

An instructor may assign a grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, at any point during the term for the student who has plagiarized or committed academic cheating of any kind.

An instructor may assign a grade of F, which will appear on the permanent record, at any point during the term for the student who stops attending a course being attempted for the third time.

Academic Dishonesty Statement: Pensacola State College is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic conduct. All forms of academic dishonesty, to include plagiarism and cheating, are prohibited.

Penalties for academic dishonesty include but are not limited to one or more of the following: the awarding of no credit on the assignment, a reduction in the course grade, or the assignment of a final course grade of F and removal from the course. See the College Catalog for more details:

Student Email Accounts: Pensacola State College provides an institutional email account to all students enrolled in courses for credit. This institutional email account is the official method of communication, and students must use this account when communicating with the College. In cases where companion software is used for a particular class, email may be exchanged between instructor and student using the companion software.

Flexibility: It is the intention of the instructor to accomplish the objectives specified in the course syllabus. However, circumstances may arise which prohibit the fulfilling of this endeavor. Therefore, this syllabus is subject to change. When possible, students will be notified of any change in advance of its occurrence.

ADA Statement: Students with a disability that qualifies under the American with Disabilities Act Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA) must self-identify with the Student Resource Center for ADA Services (SRC/ADA). Disabilities covered by the ADAAA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact SRC/ADA if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies. SRC/ADA is located on the Pensacola campus in building 6, room 603, ADA-services@pensacolastate.edu, 850-484-1637. Students may also complete the online intake form in the ADA Services app within the PSC apps dashboard.

Equity Statement: Pensacola State College does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, color, gender/sex, age, religion, marital status, pregnancy, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or genetic information in its educational programs, activities, or employment. For inquiries regarding Title IX and the College's nondiscrimination policies, contact the Dean of Students at (850) 484-1759, Pensacola State College, 1000 College Blvd., Pensacola, Florida 32504.

Security Statement: Pensacola State College is committed to encouraging all members of the College community to be proactive in personal safety measures. In case of emergency, students should ensure that they are aware of the building exit closest to each of their classrooms, as well as all alternative building exits in case circumstances require using a different route.

Emergency Statement: In the case of severe weather or other emergency, the College administration maintains communication with appropriate state and local agencies and makes a determination regarding the cancellation of classes. Notices of cancellation will be made through the College's PSC Alert system and on the College's website.
