Course Description: This course provides a comprehensive look at modern astronomy, emphasizing the use of the scientific method and the application of physical laws to understand the universe including Earth and its environment. Throughout this course, students will develop the ability to discern scientific knowledge from non-scientific information by using critical thinking.

Class Meeting Time: T_Th | 8:00 AM - 9:15 AM

Class Location: SSRC, Room 5185

Semester Hours: 3 credit hours

Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer

Course Designations: Meets AA General Education Core, Natural Sciences (Physical Sciences) requirement.

General Education Core Course Standard: Per Florida Statute 1007.25, "Natural science courses must afford students the ability to critically examine and evaluate the principles of the scientific method, model construction, and use the scientific method to explain natural experiences and phenomena."

Required Textbooks and Instructional Materials: None

Methods of Evaluation:

At minimum, the instructor will cover content which aligns with statewide and institutional learning outcomes for the course. The instructor will measure student performance using the following:

Grade calculation: Your final grade is based on your 4 unit tests and home/classwork.

The grade scale is:
90-100=A

Final Grade Calculation
Unit 1 test 20%

88-89=B+	Unit 2 test	20%
80-87=B	Unit 3 test	20%
78-79=C+	Unit 4 test	20%
70-77=C	Home/classwork	20%
68-69=D+
60-67=D	There are no dropped grades.
Below 60=F

Student Expectations: Students enrolled in this course can expect the following:

1. Clearly identified course objectives;
2. Productive class meetings;
3. A positive learning environment;
4. Opportunities for appropriate student participation;
5. Effective instruction;
6. Positive and appropriate interactions;
7. Assistance with meeting course objectives during and beyond class hours;
8. Evaluation of student performance and appropriate and timely feedback; and
9. Clear and well-organized instruction.

Course Learning Outcomes:

1. Expand the student's knowledge of the universe around them.
2. Show that astronomers are continuing to make new discoveries and learn more about the universe every day.
3. Utilize, and provide a foundation, for exploring other physical sciences.
4. Experience finding and identifying objects in the sky and learn to observe these objects with, or without, enhancements using technology like binoculars or a telescope.
5. Inspire students to ponder some of the great unanswered questions in astronomy and hold interest in the pursuit of the solutions in the future.
6. Provide context for understanding the students' own unique place in the cosmos.

General Education Student Learning Outcomes:

Critical Thinking: The student analyzes, evaluates, and, if necessary, challenges the validity of ideas, principles, or data in order to develop informed opinions, probable predictions, or defensible conclusions.

Scientific and Mathematical Literacy: The student properly identifies and applies scientific or mathematical principles and methods.

Information Literacy: The student effectively locates, evaluates, and applies information from a variety of sources.
